

Franz Liszt: World premiere - The complete edition of his songs.

GOAL

For the first time in the world, the complete collection of Franz Liszt's songs is being compiled by the Hermann publishing group in Vienna and made available to the public.

HEAREADDITION

The complete edition of the songs, which has already been prepared digitally by the publisher, represents a complex challenge, as it requires thorough scholarly examination and redesign for printing.

ACTION NEEDED

Despite initial efforts by Hermann Verlag in 2014 to produce a complete edition of Liszt's songs a complete publication is still lacking, although various famous singers have already drawn attention to this rich repertoire.

MEASURES

The completion of the complete edition of Franz Liszt's lieder will be mobilized through a wide range of financing instruments, from crowdfunding to donations and foundation grants.
